Our events are sponsored by:

Career Management is not just applying...

...it is a process consisting of four phases:

1. Analysis: Know yourself.
2. Exploration: Discover industries, companies and fields of activity.
3. Focusing: Take the right approach when looking for a job.
4. Application: Present the best you – in your application documents and in interviews.

Analysis

«Knowing yourself is the beginning of all wisdom.» Aristotle

«Knowing others is intelligence; knowing yourself is true wisdom. Mastering others is strength; mastering yourself is true power.» Lao Tzu

Three crucial questions

What is important to me?

- Interests
- Values

What am I good at?

- Technical Competencies
- Transferable Competencies

What do I need?

- Needs and expectations

What is important to me? – Interests

“Your interests are the activities that you enjoy doing and the subjects that you like to spend time learning about.”

or

“The feeling of wanting to give your attention to something or of wanting to be involved with and to discover more about something.”

What is important to me? – Values

The more in line your professional life is with your values, the greater the chances of you finding success and satisfaction in your job.

What am I good at? – Technical/Transferable Competencies

Technical or subject specific competencies

Method-specific competencies

Social competencies

Personal competencies

What do I need? – Needs & Expectations

Bon voyage!
